

About the Program

Course Description

CBIATC China Training Program offers students an immersive experience in Beijing, hosted by the renowned China Beijing International Acupuncture Training Center (CBIATC). Participants will engage in clinical observations, lectures, and hands-on activities while deepening their understanding of traditional Chinese medicine at this WHO Collaborating Center.

Goals

- Gain clinical observation and diagnostic skills guided by experts at the renowned CBIATC.
- Deepen knowledge of acupuncture, moxibustion, and traditional Chinese medicine techniques.
- Explore the cultural and historical significance of traditional Chinese medicine at a WHO Collaborating Center.
- Learn to integrate traditional Chinese medicine into modern healthcare through hands-on training.
- Build expertise in acupuncture education from a globally respected institution serving over 100 countries.

Venues

- CBIATC in Beijing will host the hospital and lecture activities.
- Herbal field learning activities will take place in Bo Zhou City.
